Foreword

The Tuppers are an ancient and honorable family deriving from Thuringia, and they flourished in Germany under such names as Toppfern, Toppherr, Töpfer and Tapfer from the thirteenth to the sixteenth centuries. Zedler the genealogist states that the original name of the family was Trefurth, but that the name Toppherr or Töpfer was assumed by Conrad von Trefurth in 1270, when he changed his residence from Trefurth to Töpfer close by. Both places are not far from Eisenach. The family was strongly Protestant, and there is a tradition (of which our Tupper was extremely proud) that one of these early Teutonic Tuppers was a collaborator of Martin Luther himself. The name Martin has undoubtedly been common in the family since the fifteenth century. "As to my 'indignant Protestantism'," wrote Tupper to Gladstone in 1867, "consider that I come of Martyr's blood – of confessor's certainly according to our family tradition – and that I must always deliver my conscience."

In about 1522 certain members of the family were to be found in Hesse-Cassel. Thence Charles V exiled them for their Protestant opinions, and they removed first to the Low Countries – where the name has been spelt Toupard and Toupart – and later either to the South of England, to Guernsey, or to America. Two brothers, Robert and Henry Tupper, settled at Chichester in the reign of Henry VIII. Another member of the family settled at Sandwich, and he or his descendants emigrated to America in the sixteenth century and were the forebears of numerous American and Canadian Tuppers. Two castles at Gross Töpfer and Klein Töpfer in Thuringia, destroyed in the Thirty Years War, were looked upon by Tupper – and he had support from Zedler – as the family's ancestral abodes. Their sites were faithfully ringed around by him on a German ordnance map in one of his scrapbooks. He also maintained a debatable theory that the two lakes in the Adirondack region of New York State, Great Tupper Lake and Little Tupper Lake, were "a remembrance of the German homes."

Many of the American Tuppers have distinguished themselves. Members of the family fought on both sides at Bunker's Hill, and one was thanked by Washington in general orders. Sir Charles Tupper (1821-1915), the Canadian statesman, was a descendant of the loyalist soldier.

The first Tupper to settle in Guernsey was John, son of the Henry Tupper of Chichester already mentioned. Voyaging to Bordeaux, he was shipwrecked on Guernsey, and there met and married the heiress of the Seigneur de Sark. His grandson, likewise John, at great risk carried news to Spithead on May 16, 1692, leading to the victory of La Hogue, for which service he received from William III a gold chain and medal which has since figured conspicuously in the Tupper coat of arms. The heroic John Tupper had a younger brother who held a naval commission under William III; this younger brother was the great-great-grandfather of Martin Farquhar Tupper.

The Guernsey Tuppers have a gallant record of service in the Army and Navy. Lieutenant Carré Tupper, killed in action at Bastia, 1794; Lieutenant William Tupper, R.N., died of wounds received in action against Greek pirates, 1826; Colonel William de Vic Tupper, killed in action at Talca, 1830; Colonel William Le Mesurier Tupper, mortally wounded at St. Sebastian, 1836 — these and others of the family are honourably remembered in Guernsey. Martin Tupper was proud to call himself a Guernseyman, and throughout his life took pains to preserve and strengthen his ties with the island. He believed in and lived up to the family motto: "L'Espoir est ma Force."[1]

POST SCRIPT

The writings of Martin Farquhar Tupper in the 19th century were so much a part of the households of England and America, that the Oxford English Dictionary still carried the following in 1933:

Tupperian, a. and sh. a. adj. Of, belonging to, or in the style of Martin F. Tupper's Proverbial Philosophy (1834-42). b. sh. An admirer of Tupper. So Tupperish a., Tupperism, Tupperize v.

The Tupper Family Association of America

The first meeting of the Tupper Family Association was called in Boston on August 12, 1916, by a group of dedicated people of the New England area. The group drew up a Constitution and By-Laws which they presented to all members of the family interested in attending the next annual meeting on August 11, 1917. To quote:

The objects of this Association shall be:

1. To buy, repair and maintain the Tupper House at Sandwich, Massachusetts.
2. To complete and publish the Tupper Genealogy.
3. To erect suitable memorials to Capt. Thomas Tupper and other members of the Tupper Family.
4. To hold annual meetings at Sandwich, or other designated places.

In 1926, Russell E. Tupper and others acting for the Corporation petitioned for and received from the Secretary of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, a certificate of Incorporation setting forth the same purposes.

Meetings continued to be held, and in July, 1949, the President of the Association, Clarence E. Tupper, sent to all members a report of accomplishments from 1916 to 1949. To quote:

1. It secured funds for the purchase of the Old Tupper House and lot at Sandwich.
2. The property was purchased July 20, 1916 and the deed recorded at Barnstable Court House, August 12, 1916.
3. It collected funds for restoration of the Old Tupper House in October, 1916. The work was completed in 1917. The house was destroyed by an incendiary fire, April 9, 1931.
4. It restored the grave-stones of Thomas Tupper, 2nd; Eldad Tupper and his wife, Roland Tupper, Samuel Tupper and his wife, in the old Sandwich Cemetery, 1916.
5. The Association was incorporated January 4, 1926 at a meeting in the Hotel Vendome, Boston.
6. Ten family reunions have been held.
7. The Memorial Boulder and Tablet in honor of Thomas Tupper and his wife Ann were dedicated at Sandwich, August 18, 1939.

Old Tupper House

8. The Association edited the dedicatory volume containing unabridged addresses made on that occasion.
9. It prepared publicity for a national campaign for new members and circularized all known Tupper descendants with notices of the proposed publication of the Tupper genealogy.
10. In 1945 five generations of Thomas Tupper, with the children of the sixth generation listed, were published in four issues of the New England Historic Genealogical Society Register — Volume 99. This material was subsequently published by the Association in a single bound volume. A few copies are still available at three dollars each and may be obtained from George W. Tupper, Secretary.

The Officers and members of the Board who implemented the above are:

2. A protective fence has been erected.
3. The land has been surveyed.
4. Roses have been planted.
5. The Town of Sandwich has been approached with a very cooperative response to further beautify the entrance by grassing the area between the Boulder grounds and the newly tarred "Tupper Road" running to the center of Sandwich.

The Meaning of the Coat of Arms

The Tupper Family coat of arms has been in the family for several hundred years.

The Shield – which symbolizes armour protection from adverse forces – centers the design which is circled on three sides by the leaves of a vine. At the top of the shield – as if standing behind it – is the figure of a faun-like animal which holds the place in heraldry similarly held by the lion as leader in life. In front of it, at the top of the Shield, is a medieval helmet centered and prominent in view.

The complete escutcheon itself is divided horizontally into three parts. The upper third holds the figures of two boars – one to the right and one to the left of the center. The second or central part of the Shield has three scallop shells prominently displayed. These shells are positioned to have the scallops toward the bottom. The bottom third of the Shield again displays a boar, but this time in the center. The colors of the Shield include blue, red and yellow.

The origin of the English coats of arms is interesting. Coats of arms came into use when it became necessary for men using armour in the Middle Ages to be able to recognize each other as friend or foe in the melee of the battle. Heraldry appeared as a practice or science by the beginning of the thirteenth century.

The term "coat of arms" came about in the thirteenth century and the practice of embroidering armorial ensigns on the coat worn over the coat of mail. At that time, as few people could write, men entered on their armour designs to authenticate their deeds and transactions.

After the fourteenth century, fantastic fables were invented to account for various exploits and supposed adventures of the ancestors of the owners, which led to a multitude of objects and designs, not authentic, appearing on the Shields.

From 1530-1686 various heralds visited England and their records give detailed pedigrees of various families. By the nineteenth century, heraldry had been reduced to a definite system.

In heraldic terminology, the Shield contains the field whereon are represented the figures which form the individual coat of arms. These Shields are called escutcheons. The Helmet placed at the top of the coat of arms shows the rank of the person to whom the arms belongs. Its designation is recognized in three ways – (1.) By the metal of which it is made; (2.) By the form of the Helmet; (3.) By its position.

Crests were used as marks of honor, but have gone through various changes with the centuries. Knights who were desirous of concealing their rank, or wished particularly to distinguish themselves on the battlefield, for example, decorated their helmets with plants and flowers, figures or animals, and these have come down through the years, in our case the faun-like creature and the leaves. The scroll is a label and contains the motto. This usually is placed beneath the Shield and supporters.

Returning to our own coat of arms, the colors on the Tupper coat of arms were blue which is represented by fine parallel lines running horizontally over the Shield; yellow, which is designed by dots on the Shield; and red which is expressed by up and down parallel lines (or by diagonal lines crossing each other for dark red). The three scallops drawn in red give us the belief that three times members of our family may have gone on the crusades, for the shell of a sea-fish, as the escallop, was used to decorate the palmers on their way to and from Palestine.

Acknowledgments

For posterity to know those who gave tireless effort to the compilation of this Genealogy which will live for many decades ahead, I wish to acknowledge the following:

R. Glen Nye of San Diego, California, has given advice, time, effort and great encouragement to the preparation of this book. His suggestions of organization and the sequences have been incorporated with sincere appreciation.

Paul K. Blanchard of North Conway, New Hampshire, has given countless hours and practical suggestions as to the printing, with a generous offer of careful guarding of the treasury in wise selection of paper, format, binding and other printing essentials.

Alexander H. Chapman of Chocorua, New Hampshire, Engineer and excellent composer, has given thousands of hours in a meticulous preparation of the intricacies of genealogical presentation. Mr. Chapman has built on the suggestions of R. Glen Nye, and with engineering skill has so presented the research that the general reader may find himself and his immediate relatives among the hundreds of pages.

Rosalind L. Rumery of Beverly, Massachusetts, as corresponding secretary for the Tupper Family Association headquarters, has given uncounted hours and days, in organizing the incoming and outgoing correspondence which has included the data members from all over the world send in to be included in the Genealogy. It has been her constant attention and loyal support in the service of the Tuppers that a strong link has been able to be maintained with information constantly sent to Mr. Chapman, who prepared the document as a whole.

In addition to those I have already mentioned, I wish to add the following persons whose assistance and support in various ways have been particularly appreciated in the preparation of the genealogy.

First are the Directors of the Association who have not only given of their time, but also been of substantial financial support.

Also to be recognized are

Mrs. Nema Nystedt of Tamworth, New Hampshire
Mrs. Paul K. Blanchard of North Conway, New Hampshire
Mrs. Esther C. Kohr of Magnolia, Massachusetts
Mr. William Miller of Beverly, Massachusetts

Not to be forgotten is Mr. Franklin Whittlesey Tupper, formerly of Hollywood, California, who wrote the first genealogy[1] and whose records and files have been commended as masterpieces in the orderly accumulation of notes for a genealogy.

In his book, "Thomas Tupper and His Descendants," Mr. Tupper gives credit also to

Frederick Allison Tupper of Boston, Massachusetts
Professor Frederick Tupper of Burlington, Vermont
Mrs. Charles White Nash of Albany, New York
Frank Tupper of Worcester, Massachusetts
Frank Boyce Tupper of California
Rev. Dr. Henry Martin Tupper, President of Shaw University
Rev. Dr. Charles Tupper of Nova Scotia
Joseph Freeman Tupper of Toronto, Canada
Nathan Wells Tupper of Los Angeles, California
Mrs. Margaret H. Heinz of Buffalo, New York
Charles Waterman Tupper of Providence, Rhode Island
Mrs. Julia Tupper Carpenter of Vermont
Miss Rose Van Tifflin of Michigan
George Gordon Homes Tupper of New York
Grant Tupper of Iowa
Mrs. Effie Lydick Nichols of Maine
Mrs. Lillian Tupper Wilson of Maine
George Lubin Tupper of Minnesota
Mrs. J. B. Tupper of Nebraska
Mrs. May Tupper Fitzrandolph of Nova Scotia
Mrs. Sidney Tupper Penn of Los Angeles, California
Mrs. Effie L. Tupper of Redlands, California
Leroy Smith of Olean, New York
Richard E. Leach of Hollywood, California

To the many others who have given support and encouragement through the years, we express our appreciation.

To you who read this volume and tie your present life to the accumulated lives and accomplishments of the members of the Family over past centuries, may your contribution to the name of "Tupper" be that of personal accomplishments, successes and progressive efforts which serve forever a better Society in the involvement of time.

How to Use the Genealogical Data Presented in This Book

Alexander H. Chapman

This book of the Genealogy of the Tupper family is divided into 76 chapters of varying length. The first chapter contains essentially the same material that was presented in the volume "Thomas Tupper and His Descendants," published by the Tupper Family Association in 1945. This means that the first chapter coverage extends to five generations plus, since the children of the fifth generation parents are also listed here. Data covering these sixth generation children are handled in three different ways:

1. Sixth generation female children are listed under their respective 5th generation male parent. The listing of each child includes a biographical story and date on the husband (if the child married). In such case, the story is expanded to include their children and in some cases their grandchildren. In this way, 7th and 8th generation descendants of female Tuppers are grouped as parts of the family of a male Tupper of the fifth generation.

2. Male and female children of the 6th generation who remained unmarried also have their biographical stories entered under their 5th generation parent. These stories are generally concise and even abbreviated, since these children did not contribute to the perpetuation of the Tupper line beyond their own generation.

3. Male children of the 6th generation who married and became heads of families, are listed by name under their fifth generation parents, but details of their lives and full description of their descendants appear in Chapters 2-76. Following the name of each sixth generation family head, the reader will find a designation of the number of the Chapter which is devoted to him, his wife and his descendants.

These 75 family heads and their children now form the living branches of the Tupper family tree, each branch being clearly linked by our numbering system to the ancestral pattern of generations one through five as contained in Chapter 1. This "tie back" of different Tupper lines, offers research possibilities to any who are interested in identifying relationships with other Tuppers whom they may encounter, simply by searching out their names or the names of recent ancestors in our index, and tracing back the indicated branch to the very beginnings of the Sandwich Tuppers.

In the rear of the book, there is a complete index of all Tuppers to whom there is biographical reference in this volume. In addition, the index contains an even larger listing of non-Tuppers; these are the spouses of female Tuppers as well as their descendants who carry the names of the non-Tupper father. In many cases these non-Tupper listings extend to the second or third generation beyond the female Tupper ancestor.

After each name in the index described above, the reader will find the number of a page on which the biographical outline of each individual will be found.

The final detail of the mechanics and anatomy of this volume has to do with a number which is assigned to each individual who is listed. Our assignment of numbers is essentially a decimal system which starts with the common ancestor Thomas who then bears the number 1. His son Thomas, being the fifth child carries the number 15. Then his son Thomas, being the second child, receives the number 152.

As a further example: if the number of a certain father (it matters not whether he is Tupper or non-Tupper) is 156235, and he has six children, then the number of the sixth child will be 1562356.

This pattern is carried through the whole anatomy of the family tree. A child's order of birth in his own family (first child, sixth child, etc.) automatically determines the terminal digit in his number (one, six, etc.). This terminal digit added onto the number of his father goes to complete the full number which will be his own and his own only.

Non-Tupper wives and husbands carry the same numbers as their spouses. Children of non-Tupper mothers are numbered just the same as children of Tupper fathers.

This numbering system of digital increments is both simple and accurate. One can identify at a glance the key to his direct ancestor of any generation. One will also find useful the 76 Chapter headings in the table of contents, which include not only the name of the sixth generation ancestor but also his number.

There is one circumstance, however, which slightly complicates the use of this digital system. On numerous occasions, Tupper families produced more than nine children. Thus the "family" number of a child would be 10, 11, 12 or even more – a double digit. To differentiate between 12 (twelve) and 12 (one, two), we use the device of dashes before and after a double digit when it stands for any number between 10 and 20 (no Tupper family listed as many as 20 children). Thus, for example, the number 156–11–2 reads one, five, six, eleven, two. On the other hand 156112 reads one, five, six, one, one, two.

As compiler of this work, I wish to extend my best wishes to all Tuppers, and to say that I am really sorry that this monumental work is now complete up to date.

First Generation

1. THOMAS TUPPER, son of Henry Tupper and grandson of Richard Tupper of co. Sussex, England, was born in Bury, co. Sussex, 28 (7) Jan. 1578. As a ship's carpenter and member of the crew, he is believed to have voyaged to America first about 1621, again in 1624, when he remained a year, a third time in 1631 when he stayed at Cape Ann for an uncertain period, finally coming to Sandwich, Mass., in 1637, where he settled and remained until his death, 28 March 1676. Thomas Tupper married first, in the Parish of Chelmsford, co. Essex, 29 Apr. 1622, KATHARINE GATOR; secondly in Topsfield, Mass., 25 Jan. 1628, SUSAN TURNER, widow, who died in Topsfield in 1634; and thirdly, in Ipswich, Mass., 21 Dec. 1634, ANNE HODGSON, a widow of Topsfield, who was born about 1588 and died in Sandwich, 4 June 1676.

Thomas Tupper, who had come to Sandwich in 1637 with his daughter aged twelve and a two year old son, became an outstanding citizen of the community and developed exceptional ability. He served in the general court in 1644, and later was deputy for 20 years, from 1647 to 1667; he served on juries, local boards and commissions, was a charter member of the church, and for 3 years from 1667 was selectman of the town. In his later years, when there was no settled minister, Mr. Tupper conducted religious services as a layman and was deeply interested in religious work among the Indians. He was a shrewd trader and invested heavily in real estate, and held large holdings at his death.

1586. MEDAD[4] TUPPER (Medad[3], Capt. Thomas[2], Thomas[1]), born in Sandwich, Mass., 2 Apr. 1718, died about 1743, by drowning in New London, Conn. He married in Sandwich, 11 Nov. 1742,

JOANNA GIBBS, born 2 May 1721, died 4 June 1779, daughter of Thomas and Joanna (Swift) Gibbs. She was a sister of Experience Gibbs who married Medad's brother Nathan[4] and was a descendant of Richard Warren of the Mayflower passengers. She became a widow within a year of her marriage and married, 17 May 1744, James Shurtleff of Plymouth, Mass.

Child:

1. MEDAD, b. in 1743; m. 15 Oct. 1773 Jane Goodspeed, b. 21 March 1739, daughter of Jabez and Reliance (Tobey) Goodspeed.

15-10-3. ELIAKIM[4] TUPPER (Eliakim[3], Capt. Thomas[2], Thomas[1]) was born in Sandwich, Mass., 20 June 1711. He married first, 28 March 1734, MARY BASSETT of Sandwich, born 24 Dec. 1709, died in Lebanon, Conn., 24 March 1753, daughter of William and Abigail (Bourne) Bassett; and secondly, in Lebanon, 7 Sept. 1753, MRS. MARTHA CLARK of Simsbury, Conn., widow of Dr. Wade Clark, who had at least two children by her previous marriage.

Eliakim lived in Sandwich until shortly after the birth of his first child, when it is believed he moved to Plymouth, Mass., in 1736, about the time his parents and the rest of the family left Sandwich for Lebanon, Conn. He and his wife became members of the church in Plymouth in 1737, and town records show he was chosen a petit juror in town meeting 24 Dec. 1739, for similar duty again 13 Dec. 1746, and was a representative to the Assembly in 1742. Births of three children are recorded in Plymouth. About 1750 he joined his relatives in Lebanon where his two youngest children were born and his wife died. In 1760, with his brother Elias, he joined a group of Connecticut farmers who, with their families, migrated to Nova Scotia, settling on lands granted them in Cornwallis. Although Eliakim died there the first winter, 28 Feb. 1761, the family remained and his son, Charles, became founder of the extensive Canadian branch of the Tupper family, who with descendants of Elias[4] and of his cousin Nathan[4], the pioneer of Queens County, N.S., constitute not less than one third of all Tuppers living on the North American continent today.

Children by first wife:

*1. WILLIAM, b. in Sandwich, 6 July 1735.

2. RUTH, b. in Plymouth, 28 July 1741; m. in Cornwallis, N.S., 30 Nov. 1763, JABEZ WEST, son of William and Jean West. Removed to Machias, Maine, about 1769, where West enlisted and served as a captain in the War of the Revolution.

15-10-14-. SOLOMON[4] TUPPER (Eliakim[3], Capt. Thomas[2], Thomas[1]), born in Sandwich, Mass., 17 Oct. 1731, died about 1801. He married in Stafford, Conn., 13 Oct. 1754, ABIA (ABIAH) WEST.

He went to live in Lebanon, Conn., about 1738 with his parents and afterward to Stafford. The name of Solomon Tupper is on the Revolutionary rolls, but whether Solomon[4] or Solomon[5] is not clear. In the French and Indian War, in 1762, Solomon Tupper enlisted from Windham County, Conn., in the 9th Company of Captain Durkee. He deserted shortly after, became panic stricken because of the liability of immediate arrest, assumed the name of "William Washburn" and reenlisted 26 Sept. 1762. He was later mustered out, received his regular pay, and when the truth came out, was merely reprimanded.

Children, born in Stafford, Conn.:

1. DAUGHTER, b. 21 Oct. 1755; d. in infancy.
2. DAUGHTER, b. 13 March 1758; d. in infancy.

Fifth Generation

15221. MAYHEW[5] TUPPER (Thomas[4], Thomas[3], Capt. Thomas[2], Thomas[1]), who appears to be the most elusive figure in the Tupper family, was the oldest son of Thomas and Remember (Perry) Tupper and was probably born in Stoughton, Mass., where his parents lived, although there has not been found any record of his birth. Early probate records in Suffolk County court in Boston establish the fact that Mayhew was the oldest son, and Seth, born in 1720, the second son of Thomas and Remember, by which it may be assumed that Mayhew was born about 1718. Mayhew was apparently married three times: first to SARAH, whose last name is unknown, and who was his wife up to about 1762; secondly to ELIZABETH

TIFFANY of Chatham, Conn., whom he married 20 April 1763; and thirdly ESTHER (TAYLOR) SNOW, widow of Thomas Snow, who was his wife as early as 1776.

Scattered records relating to the family would indicate Mayhew lived in Stoughton in his youth; removed as early as 1755 to Middletown, Conn., and about 1776 went to Chatham, Conn., where he was still living in 1790, according to the census of that year.

A son named Mayhew was born to Mayhew and Sarah in Canton, Mass., 3 April 1757, which might indicate he resided in that town, which adjoins Stoughton, before going to Middletown. There is also some belief he was in Lebanon around 1763. "Early Connecticut Marriages" gives the following marriage record in Middletown: "Mayo Tupper of Lebanon to Elizabeth Tiffany of Chatham, 20 April 1763."

In the Connecticut State Library is an interesting document from the probate records of Middletown, dated 31 Aug. 1773, being a detailed account of expenditures of Elizabeth Tupper "Administrator of the Estate of Sam'l Tupper, late of Middletown, Dec'd" which is signed by Elizabeth with an x mark and Mayhew Tupper with his actual autograph, somewhat cramped and labored, but very plain.

Richard E. Leach is authority for the claim that Elizabeth was the daughter of Thomas Tiffany of Ashford, Conn.

The Connecticut State Library quotes from its Barbour Collection: "Mayhew Tupper of Hebron m. Elizabeth Tiffany of Chatham, 20 April 1768." The difference in the year between the "Early Connecticut Marriages" and the Barbour Collection may have been an error in transcribing.

Elizabeth must have died between 1773 and 1775, Mayhew meantime moving on to Chatham where, vital records show, two sons, John and Mayhew, were born to Mayhew and Esther, his wife, respectively 19 Sept. 1776 and 8 Aug. 1778. There has not been found any record of the marriage of Mayhew and "Esther." Mrs. Charles O. Lenoir of Jacksonville, Florida, maintains that she was the widow of Thomas Snow, and that her maiden name was Taylor.

She claims this information came to her from a professional genealogist in New England. Mrs. Lenoir identified the son, John, born 19 Sept. 1776, as the New York and Michigan pioneer from whom she is descended, and as one who had a large family and numerous posterity who may be found in Michigan today. John is the only descendant of Mayhew whose progeny has so far been compiled, as nothing is now known of what became of the Mayhew born in 1757, and the Mayhew born in 1778.

The 1790 census records Mayhew living in Chatham with 1 male over 16, 2 under 16, and 3 females. Did Mayhew have still other children not known to be recorded? Middletown marriage records show the following: "Sarah Tupper and John Randall of Norwich, 4 July 1786." "Priscilla Tupper & Jonathan Miller 28 April 1773."

Priscilla Miller may well have been a daughter of Mayhew and Sarah, and Sarah Randall may have been a daughter of Mayhew and Elizabeth.

The question also arises as to who was the Samuel whose estate Elizabeth administered in 1773. Might he not have been a son of Mayhew and Elizabeth? There is the possibility that all the items above quoted may not refer to one and the same Mayhew Tupper.

As for the military service of Mayhew Tupper, records show that "Mahue Tuper" of Middletown, Conn., served in the French and Indian War from 21 April to 27 Nov. 1755 as private in the First Company, Second Regiment, Col. Eleazar Goodrich, commanding. The Revolutionary Rolls of the Pension Bureau give "Maher Tupper of Middletown" as in Capt. Jonathan Brewster's Company, Huntington's Regiment, in 1776.

Child by first wife:

1. MAYHEW, b. in Canton, Mass., 3 Apr. 1757.

Children by third wife:

*2. JOHN, b. in Chatham, 19 Sept. 1776. Pioneer in New York and Michigan. (See Chapter 2.)

3. MAYHEW, b. in Chatham, 8 Aug. 1778.

15224. REUBEN[5] TUPPER (Thomas[4], Thomas[3], Capt. Thomas[2], Thomas[1]), born in Stoughton, Mass., about 1725, died in Sharon,

Mass., 21 July 1776. He married first in Topsham, Maine, 9 Dec. 1748, ANNE WOODEN, who died in Sharon, 15 Nov. 1768; and secondly in Sharon, 21 Nov. 1771, HANNAH WHITE.

He was a blacksmith and lived in that part of Stoughton which later became Sharon. He is believed to have been the Reuben Tupper who served at Crown Point in the French and Indian War in 1762. The age on the rolls is 26, while Reuben's age at that time would have been 36, which might easily have been an error.

Children by first wife, born in Sharon:

1. ANNE, bap. 3 Nov. 1751.
2. REMEMBER, b. 27 June 1753, at Sharon, Mass., d. 11 Dec. 1848, at Francestown, N.H. On or abt. 11 Jan. 1777, at Sharon, Mass., m. NATHAN SAVAGE, b. 16 Apr. 1754, at Sharon, and d. 25 Feb. 1845, at Francestown. He was son of William and Sarah (Hobbs) Savage.

   Nathan, known as Dea. Savage, served in the Revolution (see: Mass. Soldiers and Sailors in Rev. War, 13:480), and was for 28 years deacon of the church in Francestown. He was proprietor of an iron foundry, res. in Sharon, Mass., until 1785; thereafter in Francestown, N.H.

   Children (surname Savage) (first 3 b. in Sharon; others in Francestown):

15226. LEVI[5] TUPPER (Thomas[4], Thomas[3], Capt. Thomas[2], Thomas[1]), born abt. 1731, probably at Stoughton, Mass.; died before 1774, probably in Norwich, Conn. On 21 Nov. 1752, in Norwich, Conn., married EUNICE CRANDALL, b. 21 June 1738, at Mansfield, Conn., daughter of Peter and Mary (Owen) Crandall. After Levi's death, Eunice married Samuel Smith of Norwich on 14 Apr. 1774; she was his third wife. Family res. at Norwich, Conn.

Children:

*1. Nathan, b. 15 Apr. 1755. (see Chapter 6)

15228. BRIG. GEN. BENJAMIN[5] TUPPER (Thomas[4], Thomas[3], Capt. Thomas[2], Thomas[1]), distinguished military figure in the Tupper family, born in that part of Stoughton, Mass., later to become the town of Sharon, 11 March 1738, died in Marietta, Ohio, 14 June 1792. He married, 18 Nov. 1762, HULDAH WHITE, born 10 Oct. 1739, died in Putnam, Ohio, 21 Feb. 1812, daughter of Edward and Kezia (Hall) White of Bridgewater, Mass.

Benjamin Tupper was apprenticed as a boy to a Mr. Withington of Dorchester and went there to learn the tanner's trade. While in Dorchester he was much on the waters of the bay, shooting being his favorite pastime, and he gained a great familiarity with the islands of Boston harbor which was to stand him in good stead in later years.

In the French and Indian War, when but sixteen, he was in the company of his uncle, Capt. Nathaniel Perry. He served throughout several campaigns, being a corporal in 1757, and sergeant in 1759.

After the war he was employed on a farm in Easton, Mass., acquired land of his own there and for a number of years following 1761 was a school teacher during winter sessions.

Benjamin joined the Congregational church in Easton 8 June 1760, and a few years later moved to Chesterfield where he became an active citizen and a deacon of the church.

On the breaking out of the Revolution, Benjamin was a lieutenant. He proceeded at once to Springfield, Mass., where he dispersed the supreme court of the Crown, then in session there. He next marched to Roxbury and was at once made a major in the regiment of Colonel Fellows.

About the middle of July, 1775, he made an expedition by boat, with muffled oars, to Castle Island in Boston harbor, burned the lighthouse and brought off considerable property, although the British fleet was not far off. The British endeavored to rebuild the lighthouse, but Major Tupper, with men and field pieces, in a whale boat, attacked and killed the officers and four privates engaged in the work, and captured the rest of the troops. Destroying the property on the island, the major found his escape cut off by low tide. He was attacked by the British but escaped with one man killed and one wounded, after sinking one of the enemy's boats. He had killed and captured 53 of the enemy, among the number being 10 Tories who were sent to Springfield. General Washington, in general orders the next day, thanked Major Tupper for his successful foray.

Sent to Martha's Vineyard, Major Tupper captured two vessels in August, 1775. The next month he landed on Governor's island in Boston harbor and brought away 11 head of cattle and two fine horses. He made several such heroic attacks and on one occasion rescued men caught in the ice by going out to them on snow shoes and bringing them in under his arms.

Benjamin Tupper became a lieutenant colonel in Colonel Bailey's regiment, 1 Jan. 1777, and 1 July was made colonel of the Eleventh regiment of the Continental troops, which command he held to the end of the war. For about a year he was inspector in General Patterson's brigade.

During the memorable winter of 1777-78, his regiment was with Washington at Valley Forge. He served with honor throughout the war, and towards its close was appointed brigadier general.

General Tupper later took charge of military organizations at Springfield, Mass., at the time of Shay's Rebellion, and repelled the attack made by the insurgents on the armory.

After the close of the war he returned to his home in Chesterfield and was elected representative to the Massachusetts legislature.

General Tupper is accredited with being chiefly instrumental, with General Putnam, in organizing the Ohio Company, formed to buy land and encourage settlements in the Ohio valley. He went to Marietta in 1788 with his family and settled there with the Ohio Company, was appointed judge of the court of common pleas in 1788, became a Free Mason and a member of the Society of the Cincinnati.

General Tupper is accredited by some authorities with being the real inventor of the screw propeller. He constructed a machine in 1788 consisting of a boat with a screw of short blades in the stern, turned by a crank, which propelled the boat in a successful manner without the use of oars.

General Tupper passed away 7 June 1792 in Marietta where a monument to his memory stands today.

The cellar hole of the house in which Benjamin Tupper was born is still to be seen (1944) at the rear of the Rockridge cemetery, two miles southeast of the Sharon railroad station, where is also to be found the old well which went with the homestead.

Children, last six born in Chesterfield, Mass.:

1. MAJ. ANSELM, b. in Easton 11 Oct. 1763; d. unm. in Marietta 25 Dec. 1808. He enlisted for the Revolution at the age of 11 years in the company of Capt. 15783. DR. JAMES[5] TUPPER (Benjamin[4], Eldad[3], Capt. Thomas[2], Thomas[1]), born in Nantucket, Mass., 12 Apr. 1754, died in Staten Island, N.Y. 15 (19) Sept. 1819. He married in Nantucket, 15 May 1785, DEBORAH ALLEN, of Chilmark, Mass., born 3 Jan. 1763; died 18 July 1829, daughter of Jonathan and Deborah (Gardner) Allen.

Dr. Tupper was educated in Sandwich and studied medicine there and in Martha's Vineyard. He lived in Edgartown, Martha's Vineyard, from 1797 to 1805; Pownalboro (Dresden), Maine, and in Richmond, Maine, living latterly in Dresden. In Maine he was recognized as a man of high intelligence and as a liberal entertainer. Among his descendants are the Charleston, S.C., families of distinction. While a resident of Maine, Dr. Tupper, in company with William Allen, purchased a vessel, loaded it with produce, and sailed on a trading voyage to Halifax, N.S. The voyage was long and stormy. On their return they anchored at Cape Ann, where the crew went ashore. Dr. Tupper looked back and exclaimed: "Now blow, Mr. Devil, the vessel is in good harbor, well anchored." The wind rose in the night, the cable parted, and before morning the vessel was found in fragments on the rocks. Dr. Tupper was credited with being "the first physician to advocate fresh air and out of door sleeping." "Deborah, his wife, was a lovely and charming woman. The story is told of her riding his horse into the vestibule of the church in Dresden and hitching the bridle to the bell rope while she spent several hours visiting and shopping. As the horse was lively, the result may be imagined." - From Nomie Davis Tupper, great-granddaughter of Dr. Tupper, and granddaughter of Tristram Tupper.

Sir Charles received his education at Horton Academy, Wolfeville, and later took the medical course at the Univ. of Edinburgh, graduating in 1843. He was admitted to the Royal College of Surgeons. He later returned to Nova Scotia and began practicing in his native county, Cumberland, making Amherst his headquarters. His great ability, dominating personality and proficiency in his profession soon attracted attention, but for twelve years he lived and worked as a general medical practitioner.

In person, he has been described as of medium height, straight, muscular and wiry, and with intense nervous energy, which gave him quickness of movement and ceaseless mental activity. The harder he worked the more he enjoyed it.

In 1855, Charles was persuaded by friends to accept the party nomination for public office. He belonged to the Conservative Party. He then spent over sixty years of his life in Government in Nova Scotia and in Canada. He was acclaimed as "Father of Canada" and "Canada's Grand Old Man." He was also honored with many titles and appointive responsibilities.

In 1912, after his retirement to England, his wife of 66 years died, and he accompanied her remains back to Nova Scotia, where she was buried in Halifax. He had also been in bad health at this time but recovered in 1913 and again took up his residence in England. He had a beautiful home there known as Bexley Heath.

Listed below is a record of the offices he held:

Premier of Nova Scotia	1867
President of the Privy Council of the Dominion of Canada	1870-2
Minister of Inland Revenue	1872-3
Minister of Customs	1873
